

There is not significant difference between whole square and one quarter of square. Because of the uniform distribution, the result depends on large amounts of data.